

AMENDMENTS TO THE SPECIFICATION

Please replace the paragraph at page 1, line 13, with the following rewritten paragraph:

Mobile devices and remote control devices nowadays are highly advanced and sophisticated. Mobile devices are for example, cellular phone, PDA (personal digital assistants), notebook type PC (personal computer), while the remote control devices are for example, remote controller for the audio and video appliances. Mobile devices and remote control devices have a plurality of keys in a small area, so that it is difficult for a user to hit the proper key, particularly when the device is used in a dark place. Also since the finger tip usually covers the face of the key, it is difficult to acknowledge which key is touched before depressing. An example of the keys used in a PC is disclosed in Japanese document ~~2002-323845~~2002-323945.
